

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR MEMBERS (ASSOCIATES & INDIVIDUALS)

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

ENRICH in China is the European Network of Research and Innovation Centres and Hubs in China. It is an innovation centre that intends to connect and support European research, innovation and business organisations into the Chinese market by providing services such as consultancy, business intelligence, training, innovation certification and event organisation.

ENRICH in China aims to build a large community of Members from all over Europe and China interested in getting acquainted and informed about Europe-China innovation and business cooperation and willing to help disseminate the Centre's activities and services at the same time. Members' participation is deemed essential for ENRICH in China's success as it will enable the Centre to identify and build upon the concrete needs and demands from European and Chinese actors working in the STI field on both sides.

Any organisation or individual interested in getting informed about, acquainted with or engaged in the Europe-Chinese STI cooperation landscape may become a member of ENRICH in China.

There are two types of ENRICH Members:

1. Associates: STI-related organisations, such as research and technology organisations, universities, R&D Centres, joint labs, funding agencies, science and technology authorities, technology transfer agents, science parks and industrial organisations. They act as points of reference, linking triple helix representatives (academia, industry, government) and leveraging their networks.
2. Individuals: any person, from any organisation, interested in ENRICH services in China and in the overall initiative is invited to join the community and get first-hand access to the content and knowledge provided by the centre.

1.1 Eligibility Requirements

The organisation or individual willing to join ENRICH in China as a member need to meet following requirements:

- Submit an online based application form filled out complete and comprehensibly (all fields marked with an asterisk (*) are required)
- Operate along the innovation value chain
- Ability to communicate / offer services in English
